NY	Health Emerg. Reg. FAQs	04/21/2020	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Details the insurers and the types of accident and health coverage subject to the emergency regulation. Clarifies that if a policyholder experiencing a hardship has not paid outstanding premiums by June 2, they can be terminated as of that date, provided they are not otherwise entitled to a contractual grace period at that time and offers related examples. Clarifies what constitutes a written attestation sufficient to demonstrate financial hardship. Notes that the regulation prohibits retroactive termination of the policy and provides that the insurer is responsible for paying claims that would otherwise be payable for the period covered by the regulation. Suggests that, during the COVID-19 pandemic, insurers should make every effort possible to work with policyholders and contract holders experiencing a financial hardship to make accommodations for alternative payment arrangements. Details how a policyholder may demonstrate financial hardship due to COVID-19 (e.g., submitting to the insurer/premium finance agency a statement that they swear or affirm in writing under penalty of perjury that they are experiencing financial hardship as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic). Provides that after the moratorium expires, if the policyholder has failed to make a premium payment due to financial hardship as a result of COVID-19, the insurer cannot terminate or conditionally renew the policy immediately after the expiration of the moratorium based on the policyholder's past failure to pay the premium due to financial hardship as a result of COVID-19.
